HEIDI KLUM DESIGNS 2008

Birkenstock has released its latest collection, designed by über model Heidi Klum in time for Spring. The jungle fever inspired range features a great offering of sandals made from leather with reptile prints that are not only stylish, but healthy for your feet too. Birkenstock's high quality standards demand that the brand only uses environmentally friendly materials. Not only does this protect the world we live in, but it increases the durability of its products and makes wearing them extremely comfortable.
